

Have You Ever

Have you ever awakened in the middle of night when a storm was raging with thunderous light - and forgot who you were and why you were here and where you were going and what you held dear!

Have you ever danced like a leaf in the wind - howling and reeling and shaking unpinned - free from your body free from your past

free from the dharma oh, freedom at last!

Just a breath in the darkness, a Spirit in flight with no form and no substance, no hearing nor sight - a Soul that is floating above life and limb singing HALLELUYAH like a joyous hymn!

Have you ever had that happen to you? I hope so.
These storms in the night come from Heaven, you know